

Challenges in CDG diagnosis

Dr Dorinda Marques-da-Silva

Universidade Nova de Lisboa, Glycoimmunology group, CDG & Allies – Professionals and Patient Associations International Network (CDG & Allies – PPAIN), Lisbon, Portugal

Dr da Silva, received her Biochemistry degree in University of Algarve – Faro, Portugal.

She defended her PhD thesis on “Study of redox and calcium transport systems microdomains in the plasma membrane of neurons”, in University of Extremadura – Badajoz, Spain.

Her work is developed under the scope of the CDG & Allies – Professionals and Patient Associations International Network (CDG & Allies – PPAIN).

She is part of the Working Group (WG) CDG & Liver, integrated in the Work Package 4 (WP4) – Biology to guide CDG Therapies since THE beginning of February 2016. More information HERE.

Dr Dorinda is highly motivated to make a difference in patients' lives.